Android Developer, Intern

EXUUS

Android Developer, Intern

You'll learn how to be a professional developer and make yourself tons more valuable to startups, and work on cutting-edge problems that you won't see in a classroom. You'll work closely with the founders, design, engineering and product teams to implement and release product into the wild. Your code will touch thousands of people. You'll join a fast-moving team that continuously pushes code to production.

Responsibilities

- Develop & support mobile applications in Android and Android/mobile-web hybrid platforms
- Participate in all phases of software engineering including; requirements, design, coding and testing

Requirements

- Implement reusable components, frameworks and libraries
- Pursuing BS/MS degree in Computer Science, Engineering or a related subject
- Excellent understanding of OOP and it's main principals
- Understanding of Android Design Principles
- Experience with Android APIs and Capabilities
- Experience with RESTful API access, handling JSON and XML
- Experience with app development for multiple screen sizes
- Excellence in communication with peers and non-technical colleagues

PERKS
- Lunch provided every day
- Transport Provided every day

NB: If interested send both a motivation letter and CV at career@exuus.com by the 13th May 2016 at 11:59 PM